

Housing and Communities

Getting involved matters!

Dudley 500

The Dudley 500 is a database of Dudley residents who are helping us to shape our housing and community service by completing short surveys online.

The surveys are quick and easy to complete and allow people to have their say about the way that services are provided.

Being part of Dudley 500 means that residents can be involved on a casual basis without having to commit to attending meetings or providing regular feedback. Members of the database have the option to select specific topics that they want to have their say about, and opt out of topics they are not currently interested in.

The surveys are sent by email and can be completed by following a link provided.
